DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they include the following reference character(s) not mentioned in the description: "10". Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d), or amendment to the specification to add the reference character(s) in the description in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(b) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Double Patenting

A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Claim 12 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate of claim 11. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

As concerns claims 1, 10, and 11, there is an inconsistency between the language in the preamble and certain portions in the body of the claims, thereby making the scope of the claims unclear. For example, the preamble clearly indicates that the subcombination of a "ladder system" is being claimed. However, the body of the claim positively recites a "building", e.g., "Loa building having..." (claim 1); "adjacent to said building" (claim 1), "inside said building" (claim 1); "separate from a power line for said building" (claim 10), "into said building" (claim 11), which indicates the claims as being drawn to a combination of the "ladder system" and the "building". Therefore, the applicant is required to clarify what the claims are intended to be drawn to, i.e., either the "ladder system" alone or in combination with the "building", and to present the claims with the language which is consistent with the invention. The applicant should note that "adapted to be" language may be appropriate if claiming the "ladder system" alone (i.e., "adapted to be secured to").

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4, 7, and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by the UK Patent 2,222,848 of Melville.

Melville sets forth a ladder system comprising a compartment 2; an extendable ladder 5 inside the compartment; a door 8 covering the compartment; an alarm assembly including a sensor and coupled to the door; an alarm including a bell and/or lights; and a separate power supply.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Melville in view of Breinig 3,887,033.

Melville sets forth the ladder system, as advanced above, except for the sensors for activating the ladder including heat and smoke sensors. However, Breinig teaches the use of heat and smoke sensors within an automatic fire escape ladder system. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the ladder system of Melville by incorporating heat and smoke sensors, as taught by Breinig, in order to activate the ladder system at the first sign of smoke or a dangerous level of heat.

Claims 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Melville in view of Greve 5,411,111.

Melville sets forth the ladder system, as advanced above, except for the hand rail and support pole. However, Greve teaches the use of a hand rail and support pole within a ladder system. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the ladder system of Melville by incorporating a hand rail and support pole, as taught by Greve, in order to stabilize the ladder and to offer further hand gripping means to increase the safety of the system.

Claims 11 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Melville.

Melville sets forth the ladder system, as advanced above, except for multiple ladders. However, the examiner takes the position that it would have merely been a duplication of parts to provide additional ladders in order to increase the safety aspect of the building.
